

THE TROUBLES OF A PAIR OF LOVERS.

New York Times (1857-Current file); Sep 9, 1877; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2001)
pg. 5

THE TROUBLES OF A PAIR OF LOVERS.

Fanny B. Youlin, a daughter of Dr. Youlin, of the Jersey City Board of Health, and David G. Vroom, of No. 29 Spruce-street, were in the Tombs Police Court yesterday afternoon. Miss Youlin is an attractive young lady of 21, and Mr. Vroom, as the story was told, had been engaged to her for nearly a year until Friday afternoon, when Dr. Youlin learned that Mr. Vroom was already married, when it was at once determined that the engagement should be broken. Yesterday morning the young lady and Mr. Vroom were riding in a hack in the vicinity of the City Hall, when Mr. Henry C. Day, the lady's cousin, who had followed her from her home in Jersey City, had the pair arrested, and they were taken to the Tombs. The young lady explained, through her tears, that she did not intend to elope with Mr. Vroom, but came to this City only to tell him that it had been discovered that he had a wife living. Mr. Vroom said that he had begun proceedings in court to annul his previous marriage. After a one-minute interview between the lovers, the young lady accompanied her cousin home in a carriage.