

This Table shows the genealogy of 5 generations (13, 14, 15, 16, 17) of the Ermen family. It is based on the excellent detailed genealogical work of the present-day Bastiaanssen family (see Acknowledgements) who are related to the Ermens. The Generation numbers and “person numbers” (13a, 13b, etc) follow the scheme used by the Bastiaanssens. The Table starts with the five children of Generation 13 (13a through 13e). Some of the 8 children (Generation 14) of Godefridus Ermen (13a) went to live in Manchester, England, to engage in the cotton business, and they became a very successful business dynasty (with the firms “Ermen Brothers”, ‘Ermen and Engels”, and later “Ermen & Roby”) having significant effect in the Manchester area. This related set of people is referred to as the “Manchester Ermens”. The colored cells (purple, gold, green, pink or grey) of the Table indicate the individuals (and their descendants) directly associated with the Manchester line. Detailed information is given for these ancestral lines. More cursory information is given for the Ermens not connected with the Manchester line – see the Bastiaanssen website for a great amount of detail about all these other Ermens.

Friedrich Engels, the collaborator with Karl Marx, had intimate connection with the first generation (“Generation 14) of Manchester Ermens (Peter 14c, Anthony 14f, and especially Godfrey 14x) and became a partner in the firm that bore their joint name, “Ermen & Engels”. He was directly associated with the Ermens from 1842-1844, then from 1850-1869. This connection to such an important cultural figure lends special historical interest to the Ermen family, of course.

The author would be glad to receive additions and corrections from persons having knowledge of these families described here.
